Start your day on the farm learning about the oldest and one of the largest settlements of the Amish in the United States. Interactive experiences at one of our interpretive attractions provide an authentic and respectful look into their interesting way of life. Your knowledgeable guide will explain the history, customs, clothing, and culture of the Amish. Some properties offer multilingual guides. View the surrounding farmlands throughout the county with a guided tour or you can even catch a buggy ride!

Indulge in a hearty lunch of Pennsylvania Dutch-style cuisine favorites including Chicken Corn Soup, Brown Buttered Noodles, Red Beet Eggs, Ham Balls... but don't forget to leave room for a slice of Shoofly Pie and a Whoopie Pie (or two)! There are several restaurants that will welcome you with open arms and warm plates, whether traveling with just your family or a whole bus group! You can taste the tradition and love in every bite.

Now it's time to indulge in some retail therapy. Enjoy everything from bargain outlet shopping at name-brand stores to window shopping locally-owned boutiques to Amish-owned businesses like quilt shops, bakeries, and farm stands. Our small towns and villages throughout the county each offer themselves as a unique destination with their own charm and local flavor: try exploring Lititz, Adamstown, Manheim, or Strasburg (to name a few!). Spend your evening on the edge of your (comfortable) seat taking in a Broadway-caliber show at one of our spectacular theatres. Productions range from stories from the Bible brought to life, dinner theatres, performances in historic venues, awe-inspiring illusions, and celebrity concerts.

Wake up refreshed and ready for another day of discovery. Visit a local farmers market; Lancaster Central Market, the oldest continuously-operating farmers market in the United States, is a must! While you're there, stroll the streets of downtown Lancaster for art galleries and boutique shopping. The walkable city boasts more than 50 restaurants, many independently owned and offering international flavors and cuisine.

Continue the day with a walking tour in one of our small towns, a visit to one of our museums addressing topics from watches to art to a former President's home, or even roll your own pretzel at the country's first commercial pretzel bakery. Take a relaxing ride through Amish countryside on America's oldest short-line railroad. There's so much history and culture throughout Lancaster County for you to discover!

No matter what time of year you visit, there is a wide assortment of options to include on your itinerary. We are thankful for the diversity of visitors we receive to Lancaster County each year and we welcome each one. Lancaster County businesses are open and ready to host you for a memorable and enjoyable stay in Central Pennsylvania.

DELICIOUS DINING

Many restaurant menus change as the seasons do to feature locally-sourced goods and produce. A meal in Lancaster means fresh, flavorful, and unique dishes.

A must-visit in Lancaster County, no matter how long your stay, is one of our many smorgasbords or buffets. These restaurants often feature the stick-to-your-ribs, meat & potatoes meals we are most known for. Pennsylvania Dutch-style fare that many return for during each visit to Lancaster County can be found piled high on plates at these dining outlets. A visit to Lancaster County isn't complete without a hearty meal of authentic Pennsylvania Dutch cooking.

Our downtown is known for the variety of international cuisine available at many locally-owned restaurants. Try new or familiar flavors from eateries featuring African, American, Asian, French, Greek, Indian, Irish, Italian, Latin, and Nepalese cuisines...just to name a few! Breakfast to dinner and drinks to dessert, you're sure to find a flavor you love downtown. This is the best place to eat as the locals do!

Lancaster County is well caffeinated with plenty of café and coffeehouse options throughout the county. These quick-service style cafes can be found on the main streets of many of our small towns and villages. They are a great way to sneak in a quick bite to eat, learn more about the community in which they are located, and get some great local advice on "must-do's" from the employees!

MUST TRY LANCASTER EATS & SWEETS

Whoopie Pies

An iconic dessert made from two cake-like cookies with sweet cream in the center.

Shoofly Pie

A staple of Pennsylvania Dutch dessert – a molasses crumb cake that comes in two styles: "wet bottom" which has a gooey bottom layer or "dry bottom" which is more cake-like.

Pretzels

They started as a sign of simple, nourishing foods from our German and European history, but have become a cultural food icon for the county. Enjoy a warm soft pretzel freshly baked or a crunchy snack pretzel. Did you know the first commercial pretzel bakery in the United States is located in Lititz? Be sure to visit Julius Sturgis Pretzel Bakery during your visit!

Chicken Pot Pie

If you're in Lancaster County, forget the crust! Our version is a hearty stew-like meal with broth, slow-cooked chicken, carrots, potatoes, and savory square noodles.

Sweet Bologna

Sweet & smoky beef-based sausage usually enjoyed paired with mustard as a snack or on a sandwich; reflects the traditions of our Western Europe heritage.

Chow Chow

Combination of pickled vegetables (usually the odds & ends left at the end of harvest) that make a sweet & sour side dish. Chow Chow traditionally includes carrots, onions, cauliflower, celery, corn, peppers, and beans for a colorful mix!

Wilbur Buds

Chocolate morsels that debuted in Lititz in 1893, and have been a favorite ever since. These sweet "buds" are still made in Central Pennsylvania today!

Ice Cream

What better way to use farm fresh milk? There are a variety of ice cream shops throughout the county, many featuring homemade flavors!

AMISH LIFESTYLE

Lancaster, Pennsylvania is home to the oldest Amish settlement in the country. First arriving from Europe to escape religious persecution in the 1720's, the Amish population in Lancaster has rapidly grown to a population of more than 44,000. Plan your trip to Lancaster County and take a step back in time, not only observing but experiencing the lifestyle of the Amish.

FACTS ABOUT THE AMISH:

- Lifestyles of the Amish will vary between geographical location, however, all are largely based on an interpretation of the Bible as well as the ruling from their respective Ordnung.
- Generally, the Amish avoid the use of electricity. Many elements from mainstream society are considered to be tempting influences that could weaken their close-knit community.
- The simple attire of the Amish distinguishes them as a group and demonstrates many of their values, such as practicality, unity, and their faith. Men and women wear modest, solid-colored clothing that are fastened by pins or hook-and-eye closures.
- Humility is an important value to the Amish; one way this is demonstrated is through the abstinence of taking and displaying photos of themselves. This is seen as a violation of the command "Thou shalt not make unto thyself a graven image". Refraining from taking photos where their faces are recognizable is an important display of respect.
- Amish children learn English and High German in school. In their homes and within their community, they speak a dialect of German, Pennsylvania Deutsche.
